

PROMOSAIK INTERLANGUAGE

YOUR INTERCULTURAL ONLINE LANGUAGE SCHOOL

www.promosaik-interlanguage.com

ProMosaik Interlanguage is a department of ProMosaik Group and offers private language lessons planned according to the individual needs of its students concerning time, place, content, and study material.

We work with qualified and professional native teachers with at least two years of practical experience as teachers.

Our main teaching languages:

German, English, Italian, French, Arabic, Turkish, Spanish, Portuguese, Greek, Chinese, and Russian.

Since its foundation, the association ProMosaik, which focusses on tolerance and promotion of cultural diversity, has used different languages to engage itself for peace and human rights in different cultures and religions.

The members of ProMosaik are aware that language and culture are two sides of the same coin.

For us language means intercultural dialogue and, as a consequence, a cultural exchange into two directions: since in a language course I learn the language and culture of the other. And at the same time, I enrich the other by transmitting my culture and culture identity to him/her.

Why ProMosaik “Interlanguage”?

The dictionary Merriam-Webster defines interlanguage as a “language produced by a learner of a second language that often has grammatical features not found in either the learner's native language or the language being acquired.”

For us, interlanguage has a positive meaning showing the interface, the space of encounter between L1 and L2, and at the same time the creation of something new which is neither present in the native nor in the acquired language.

The fact that learning a language is an imperfect process, the idea that language learning is a space of dialogue and encounter not just between languages but between teachers and learners of different cultures as well as positive and dynamic concepts determining our daily work as language tutors.

We encourage our learners on their path towards “interlanguage” in a positive sense.

Language learning means diversity.

And ProMosaik stands for this mosaic-shaped world of diversity. This diversity is social, linguistic, personal, emotional, ethnic, method-related, and interpersonal.

At ProMosaik Interlanguage, teachers learn from their students while the students develop their one language.

ONLINE COURSES VIA SKYPE, ZOOM or GOOGLE CLASSROOM

The Skype technology eliminates costs: there are no specific rooms because we use Skype, Zoom or Google Classroom as place of encounter between teacher and learner so that they can get in touch directly one with another.
